WHERE PASSIONS COME TO LIFE

So Many Ways to Explore, Create and Grow

At Immanuel, we believe learning doesn't stop when the bell rings.

Our cocurricular program gives your child the chance to dive into what they love – or try something completely new. Whether it's on the sports field, on stage, in the robotics lab or out in the community, these experiences build confidence, spark friendships and help students grow in ways that go far beyond the classroom.

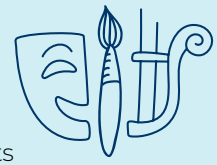
Why Cocurricular Matters

Joining Immanuel's cocurricular programs isn't just about filling time after school – it's about helping your child become their best self. These activities build confidence, develop leadership skills, and create meaningful connections that often last a lifetime.

Our students learn to manage their time, work in teams, and push beyond their comfort zones. Whether they're performing in our award-winning bands, competing in regional sports competitions, or solving complex problems in our robotics club, they're developing resilience, creativity, and emotional intelligence. These experiences shape well-rounded individuals ready to tackle life's challenges with confidence.

Sports

From the pool to the pitch, we support athletes of all levels to reach their potential. Our sports program ranges from netball and rugby to mountain biking, supported by expert coaching and excellent facilities that inspire excellence and a lifelong love of physical activity.



The Arts

Creativity thrives at Immanuel. Our arts program spans music, drama, dance, and visual arts, giving students many ways to express themselves. From musical productions and award-winning bands to digital media, every student can find their creative home.

Curious Minds

For curious thinkers and problem solvers, we offer engaging opportunities to stretch their minds. From chess and coding to debating and robotics, students are challenged to think critically, solve problems, and embrace innovation.

Culture and Service

At Immanuel, students learn the value of giving back through service programs that build empathy and leadership. By supporting local and global communities, they grow into compassionate leaders who make a real difference.
